TechFactors, Inc., your true partner in the world of e-learning!

Together with you, we make learning a great experience as we bring to the Filipino youth the premium resources for computer education. Through our strong partnership, we advance education and development by integrating Information Technology in our schools' academic programs.

Hand in hand, we now forge Information and Communications Technology (ICT) as a cross-discipline that integrates the different domains that develop our students' individual competencies and intelligences.

TechFactors now brings you the Tekkids and TekHigh line of premium ICT learning courseware materials. The current crop of products includes books and interactive CDs for the preschool, grade school and high school levels—pedagogically formulated to suit the demands of learning and the instructional requirements of teachers. Through these, we stay true to our mission of giving Filipino students and fellow educators nothing but the best in e-learning!
